RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

FIA
On September 18, 1963, a rally was held by the United Florida Ku Klux Klan (UFKKK) one mile south of St. Augustine, Florida, near United States Highway 1, at eight PM. Approximately three hundred persons attended including fifty robed Klansmen. Speeches were made by [redacted] former Klansman from Jacksonville, reportedly living in California, [redacted] Klansmen from Jacksonville, Florida, against Negroes and Jews in general.

W
Toward the close of the meeting four Negroes were discovered by Klansmen approaching the meeting sites from the rear. They were accosted by Klansmen and a fight resulted in which the Negroes were injured. The St. Johns County Sheriff's Office took the Negroes to the Flagler Hospital, St. Augustine, where they were treated for cuts, bruises and possible fractures. These Negroes were [redacted], all residents of St. Augustine, FL.

W
The following four Klansmen were arrested by the St. Johns County Sheriff's Office [redacted] Stringfield, [redacted]

[redacted], all of Jacksonville. They were released September 18, 1963, under $100 bond and trial was set for September 27, 1963, at the Justice of the Peace Court, St. Augustine, Florida.

One of the Klansmen turned into the Sheriff's Office at the County Jail a .25 caliber Junior Colt revolver which he said was taken from Dr. Hayling, one of the Negroes involved in the incident.

The Negroes upon questioning by the Sheriff's Office contended that their presence at the Klan Rally was accidental in that they were attempting to go fishing and just happened upon the Klan Rally. They further claimed that they were going down the dirt road by mistake and that they intended to turn around.

[REDACTED] WFGA-TV, Channel 12, Jacksonville, Florida, advised Assistant Special Agent in Charge Kenneth W. Whittaker on September 19, 1963, that his office had received a telephone call from Dr. Robert Hayling of St. Augustine, Florida, at approximately 7 PM on September 18, 1963. [REDACTED] explained that Dr. Hayling has called him as well as other news media in the past seeking publicity for various Negro demonstrations. On the occasions of the call on September 18, 1963, Dr. Hayling advised he was calling to alert Channel 12 to a scheduled Ku Klux Klan Rally to be held at St. Augustine that evening. He gave detailed directions as to where the Klan Rally was to be held and advised that there may be some news interest for Channel 12. b7c

[REDACTED] said that Hayling was advised that Klan Rallies were commonplace and were not normally given any preferred treatment. Hayling reiterated he thought there might be news value in this rally. [REDACTED] stated he was advising the FBI of this information since it appears that the story being put forth by the Negroes involved in the beating at the rally last night to the effect that they were going fishing is apparently not truthful.

[REDACTED] WJXT-TV, Channel 4, Jacksonville, advised he had received a similar call from Dr. Hayling.

The above information was furnished to [REDACTED] 111th Intelligence Corps Group (INTC), Jacksonville, Florida.

UNITED FLORIDA KU KLUX KLAN
JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

On the night of September 19, 1963, a second klan rally was held at St. Augustine, Florida, with approximately 1,000 persons in attendance. Speeches were made by various klansmen and application forms were offered for membership into the klan. The function was covered by numerous local law enforcement officers and there were no incidents or disturbances.

On September 19, 1963, Sheriff L. G. Davis, St. Augustine, St. Johns County Sheriff's Office, advised two of the klansmen arrested September 18, 1963, by his deputies for assaulting four Negroes at the klan rally held at St. Augustine September 18, 1963, filed affidavits charging the four Negroes with assault and battery and exhibiting a deadly weapon. Affidavits were filed before Justice of Peace Marvin Greer, St. Augustine, by Lawrence Bessent and Clarence Wilson both of St. Augustine, Florida. The Negroes charged in the affidavits were Dr. R. B. Hayling, James Housor, Clyde Jenkins, and James Jackson, all of St. Augustine, Florida. According to Bessent, Hayling was in possession of a pistol which he displayed after leaving his car in the vicinity of the klan rally. It was also alleged one of the Negroes cut Bessent's shirt during the fight.

Sheriff Davis advised Dr. Hayling was considered to be in satisfactory condition, but was moved from Flagler Hospital, St. Augustine, to a Jacksonville hospital at his own request because he was afraid he might be the target of future klan intimidation.

A characterization of the United Florida Ku Klux Klan is contained in the appendix section of this memorandum.

[REDACTED] 111th Intelligence Corps Group (INTC), Jacksonville, Florida, was advised of the above information on September 20, 1963.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

On October 4, 1963, [redacted] St. Augustine, Florida, advised a kerosene lamp, of the type used to warn of road repairs, was placed in the rear seat of her car last night at 12:05. The lamp was burning, but failed to damage the car, other than getting kerosene on the seat. Two men were seen running away from the car, which was parked at the Roberson's residence. It could not be determined if the men were white or colored, but they were believed to be fairly young, judging from their speed in running. They ran around the corner, a car was heard starting, then a dark blue Buick, old model, was seen driving away.

This matter was reported to the St. Augustine Police Department, and was investigated by them in response to a telephone call from the Robersons.

[redacted] pointed out [redacted] her children are now attending [redacted] St. Augustine, Florida. She said they are being treated beautifully, and this is the first ugly incident that has arisen since [redacted] was de-segregated.

[redacted] 111th Intelligence Corps Group, (INTC), Jacksonville, Florida, was advised of the foregoing information.

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

Racial violence has occurred sporadically in St. Augustine, Florida since July, 1963. On the night of 10/28/63, after members of the United Florida Ku Klux Klan attended the funeral of William D. Kinard, a klansman killed in a racial incident in St. Augustine on 10/25/63, shots were fired into Negro houses. Governor Bryant, Florida, ordered extra State troopers into St. Augustine on the night of 10/29/63 to augment local officials in preserving order.

Information in attached teletype is being telephonically furnished the Civil Rights Division of the Department and will be confirmed in writing to Assistant Attorney Burke Marshall.

On 10/29/63 the governor's office, Tallahassee, Florida, contacted SAC Brown, Jacksonville. Governor Bryant expressed concern over the tense racial situation which exists in St. Augustine, Florida. Governor Bryant advised that he is moving a number of extra highway patrolmen into St. Augustine to preserve order. He is also calling a special session of a grand jury to investigate recent racial disorders in St. Augustine.

By way of background, St. Augustine has been the scene of racial violence. On October 25, 1963, in the early morning four white men were driving through the Negro neighborhood of St. Augustine. One of these men, William D. Kinard, was struck in the head by a bullet apparently fired from a rifle by unknown persons. Kinard, who died from the wound, had a loaded shotgun in the car with him and when he was struck the shotgun was discharged blowing a hole through the flooring of the car. Previously in July, 1963, four white youths fired a shotgun blast into a group of young Negroes outside the home of Dr. Robert Hayling, spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), St. Augustine, Florida. Four of the Negroes suffered minor injuries. The police immediately arrested the four white subjects and investigation established the one of the Negroes of the group had fired a rifle in the direction of the white youths' car prior to the incident, and one of the Negroes admitted that shots were fired at the white youths by the Negroes at the time of the shotgun blasts. The police later arrested three Negroes. Hayling, in connection with this incident, made unwarranted accusations against our Agents which proved to be false. Hayling has been characterized by his associates in the NAACP as being highly emotional and often acted without the sanction of the NAACP.

Memorandum Rosen to Belmont
RE: RACIAL SITUATION
ST. AUGUSTINE, FLORIDA

In September, 1963, a rally was held by the United Florida Ku Klux Klan (UFKKK) nearby St. Augustine, Florida. Approximately 300 persons attended. Toward the close of the meeting four Negroes were discovered by Klansmen approaching the meeting site from the rear. They were accosted by the Klansmen. A fight resulted in which the Negroes were injured. Robert Hayling, previously mentioned, was one of the Negroes involved. A Klansman turned over to the sheriff's office a .25 caliber revolver which he said had been taken from Dr. Hayling. Prior to this incident Dr. Hayling had contacted several TV stations at Jacksonville, Florida, alerting them to the Klan meeting and giving detailed directions regarding the location of the rally and advising that the coverage of the Klan rally might be news-worthy. Hayling after the incident advised local officers that he and his companions accidentally came upon the Klan meeting while going fishing.

On October 28, 1963, numerous Klansmen from Jacksonville attended the funeral of William D. Kinard mentioned above. Afterward a Klan meeting was held. During the course of the meeting a group of Klansmen left for a "mission." On the morning of October 29 various Negroes in St. Augustine reported bullets had been fired into two cafes and several automobiles in St. Augustine. A live hand grenade was thrown at a Negro cafe, however, it failed to go off and was discovered in a ditch alongside of the cafe. The St. Augustine Police Department and St. Johns County Sheriff's Department and investigators from the Florida Sheriff's Bureau are presently investigating the activities of Klansmen which took place on the night of 10/28/63.

On the night of [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The Florida Highway Patrol, the St. Augustine Police Department and the sheriff's office have cars patrolling the Negro district of St. Augustine and are stopping and searching all suspicious automobiles. Additional units sent to St. Augustine by Governor Bryant are present in St. Augustine to insure order.

THE KU KLUX KLAN
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

72-
On October 28, 1963, numerous Jacksonville Klansmen attended the funeral of William D. Kinard, who had been killed in a racial incident on October 25, at St. Augustine, Florida. After the funeral klansmen stayed around for closed meeting held at Vilano Beach, St. Augustine. About two hundred attended from Jacksonville, Palatka, St. Augustine, and Savannah, Georgia. The meeting was addressed Gene Fallaw and Connie Lynch. During the course of the meeting, a group left for a "mission," identities unknown. At the close of the meeting, Fallaw instructed all klansmen to get into their cars and head for Jacksonville.

Sheriff L. O. Davis advised that two Negro juke joints in West St. Augustine were fired upon by shotgun and rifle fire at about 10:30 pm, on October 28, 1963. A live hand grenade was thrown at one of the Negro places, but failed to go off. Davis said there were Negro patrons in one of the jukes, but they were not hit by the fire. An automobile parked near by was blasted with buckshot.

The other Negro night spot located across the street from the Harlem Gardens, a Negro juke joint, was peppered with buckshot and rifle fire.

Two Negro homes in the immediate vicinity were hit with gun fire and [redacted] owner of one of the homes, received a wound in the finger from a buckshot pellet.

b7c

THE KU KLUX KLAN
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

The Georgia Florida Market, which was operated by a white man on West King Street, also received a load of buckshot. [REDACTED] b7c a member of the active committee of the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), stated this market had been under boycott by the NAACP and did not know whether it had been shot at by Negroes in reprisal, or had been blasted along with the other spots. Sheriff Davis stated that the hand grenade was apparently thrown from one of the cars at the Harlem Gardens as it was found in a ditch in front of the place. Davis stated that Negroes in this area had not been active in NAACP demonstrations. Davis, the St. Augustine Police Department, and investigators from the Florida Sheriff's Bureau, who are in the city with the Mobile Crime Laboratory, are conducting active investigation.

Sheriff L. O. Davis advised that a search of the scene of the shooting on the morning of October 29, 1963, revealed a hand grenade to be in the vicinity of the Negro juke joint called The Grill, on Volusia Street, St. Augustine, Florida.

Intelligence Corps Group, Jacksonville, advised that a team from 544th Explosion Disposal Unit, Naval Station, Jacksonville, went to St. Augustine, Florida at request of Sheriff's Office through the National Guard, St. Augustine, to examine the hand grenade found today near "The Grill," a Negro restaurant located on Volusia Street.

The grenade was found to have had the pin removed and the arming handle detached. There was no apparent reason why the grenade did not explode. The grenade is in the possession of the Explosion Disposal Unit, Naval Air Station, Jacksonville.

The Governor's Office, Tallahassee, Florida, contacted Special Agent in Charge, Jacksonville, today. The Governor is very concerned over the racial situation in St. Augustine, Florida. He is moving a number of extra Highway Patrolmen into the city to preserve order. He is calling a special session of the Grand Jury to investigate recent racial disorder in St. Augustine.

Dr. Robert Hayling, local NAACP leader, at St. Augustine, was arrested the morning of October 29, 1963, by the St. Johns County Sheriff's Office, at the scene of the shootings, and charged with hindering the investigation. He was incarcerated in the St. Johns County Jail.

[REDACTED] 111th Intelligence Corps Group (INIC), Jacksonville, Florida, was advised of the above information. b7c

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

Sheriff L. O. Davis, St. Augustine, Florida, advised that at about 1:30 a.m. on October 25, 1963, four white males were driving in the vicinity of the residence of Goldie M. Eubanks, a Negro who is a Vice President of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, at St. Augustine, Florida, and one of their most active spokesmen. Davis identified the white men in the car as [REDACTED] 21, the driver; [REDACTED] 24; [REDACTED] 26; and William David Kinard, 24, all of St. Augustine, Florida. According to Davis, they drove past Eubanks' residence which is on the corner of Palmo and Deuro Streets. They proceeded down Deuro Street for a short distance and turned left on Central Avenue. At that time, according to Manucy, Stanford and Scaff, a rifle was fired in rapid fashion perhaps eight or ten times. Manucy stated he heard a bullet pass by his head and hit Kinard who was sitting on the front seat beside him.

U. APPROX.

Kinard had a loaded 12 gauge shotgun beside him with the barrel pointed against the floor. When he was hit in the head by the bullet, he evidently squeezed the trigger and the shotgun was discharged blowing a hole through the front flooring of the car. After the shooting, they drove immediately to Flagler Hospital and Kinard was transferred by ambulance to a hospital in Jacksonville, Florida, where he died a few hours later.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

Investigators of the Florida Sheriff's Bureau, the St. Augustine Police Department, and the St. Johns County Sheriff's Office are conducting intensive investigation, but no arrests have been made to date.

On October 25, 1963, [REDACTED] Florida Memorial College, St. Augustine, Florida, a colored institution, advised anonymous calls have been received by him at his house and by students at various dormitories at the college threatening to bomb the college this afternoon or tonight. [REDACTED] said they had advised local law enforcement officers of these calls which he thought could have probably been made by cranks. Chief Deputy Sheriff Matthew Powers stated he was aware of these calls and would take appropriate precautions.

On October 25, 1963, [REDACTED] St. Augustine, Florida, mother of children who recently integrated [REDACTED] School, St. Augustine, Florida, advised two unknown men threw four bottles of gasoline at her home the night of October 22, 1963. [REDACTED] related approximately 8:30 p.m., October 22, 1963, she heard a disturbance in the back yard which caused dogs to bark in the neighborhood. A check of the house disclosed four quart beer bottles filled with gasoline with rags stuffed in the top had been thrown against or near the house. There were no fires, although one of the rags appeared to have been ignited and extinguished. No damage was done to the house. The same evening two similar bottles were thrown against a neighboring house, the home of [REDACTED] parents, [REDACTED]. The impact from the bottles broke two asbestos shingles in the wall of the house, but no other damage was done. The men were not observed by [REDACTED], but she believed two individuals were involved from the sound of their running footsteps.

[REDACTED] stated she notified the police in St. Augustine and they investigated the incident.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

At about 10:00 A.M. on October 30, 1963, [redacted] reported to the St. Johns County, Florida Sheriff's Office that six shots had been fired into the corner of her house during the night. She said she had no telephone and was too scared to leave the house to report the matter immediately.

The home of [redacted] who is white, is located in a predominately Negro section west of the city of St. Augustine, Florida. It is about one-quarter mile from the area where stores and juke joints were fired upon on October 28, 1963.

Deputies and a ballistic expert from the Florida Sheriffs Bureau recovered five .22 caliber and one .30-.30 caliber bullets from the frame house. Sheriff L. O. Davis believed these shots were probably fired from a clump of bushes about 150 yards from the house by persons unknown. Since the shootings of October 28, 1963, patrols of the Negro sections of the city and county have been increased by use of special deputies and units of the Florida Highway Patrol.

On October 30, 1963, picketing by members of the Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at St. Augustine, Florida was resumed. Four drug stores in the downtown business district operating segregated lunch counters were picketed. There were no incidents.

[REDACTED] St. Augustine, Florida, advised that what appeared to be "Molotov Cocktail" was thrown at the rear of his house at the above address causing a serious fire. He stated that he had observed a 1956 Buick, white

Department were at the scene conducting an investigation. b7c

Chief of Police Virgil Stewart, St. Augustine, Florida, advised on February 8, 1964, that [REDACTED] b7c house was a total loss. Chief Stewart pointed out that [REDACTED] is a Negro whose child is attending an integrated school in St. Augustine, Florida.

Assistant Chief of Police Godfrey Pomar, St.
Augustine, Florida, subsequently advised on February 8, 1964, that the cause of the fire had not yet been determined. Assistant Chief Pomar stated that interrogation of [REDACTED] disclosed that he did not see anyone set the fire or observe any cars in the area at the time the fire was started. [REDACTED] reportedly stated however, that he had seen the above mentioned 1956 Buick in the neighborhood earlier in the evening. b7c

[REDACTED] St. Augustine, Florida
Police Department, furnished the following information on b7c
February 8, 1964:

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

[REDACTED] was not home at the time. Investigation disclosed three or four loads of double ought shot had been fired at the front door. Penetration was sufficient to have killed anyone inside the house in the line of fire. A large dog standing inside the house by the front door was hit and killed. Neighborhood inquiry by the Police Department failed to disclose anyone who had heard or seen anything of the kind at the shooting. b7c

A white Chevrolet sedan, possibly 1954, was observed driving past the house two times during the evening. While at the scene of the shooting, [REDACTED] spotted the car in the area. It was at a high rate of speed and was last seen headed north on U. S. Highway 1. The car has not been located as yet. The car bore Florida license 21W, next two numbers not known, last number 21. b7c

All available police cars were dispatched to the area. The house was immediately placed under police guard which will be continued. A thorough investigation by the St. Augustine, Florida Police Department is continuing. b7c

ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

On March 18, 1964, Turney W. Burkhart, Deputy State Fire Marshal, Jacksonville, Florida, advised that he had handled the states investigation of the fire at the home of [REDACTED] on February 8, 1964, at St. Augustine, Florida. His investigation indicated that the heater had burned through the floor of the wooden residence and in the course of his investigation he obtained 12 bottles of soil samples which he had submitted to the Florida Sheriff's Bureau Laboratory. As of March 18, 1964, the Sheriff's Bureau Laboratory advised Burkhart that seven bottles of the soil samples had been examined and found to contain heavy traces of gasoline. Burkhart said that upon receipt of the results of this slow examination of the remaining five bottles he would probably conclude that the fire at the [REDACTED] residence had been caused by the use of flammable liquid being thrown on the house. He said that the Sheriff's Office and Police Department at St. Augustine, Florida, had developed no suspects in this matter and that his investigation with regards to suspects was negative to date.

Chief of Police Virgil Stewart, St. Augustine, Florida, and Sheriff L. O. Davis have been contacted regularly regarding the progress of the investigation of the shooting into the home of [REDACTED] St. Augustine, Florida. On February 8, 1964, no suspects have been developed by either agency in this incident. Chief Stewart has advised that his investigation indicated that the shots at the door of the [REDACTED] home were fired from close to the ground and could not have been fired from a passing automobile due to the angle involved.

Doctor R. D. Hayling, St. Augustine, Florida, a leader in the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) activities, advised on March 20, 1964 that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, in conjunction with the NAACP, will stage two weeks of protest demonstrations against segregation at St. Augustine, Florida.

They will be quartered in the Negro community and will not use any segregated facilities. Monday and Tuesday will be spent by them attending work shops in nonviolent demonstrating. RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

The information set out below has been received from Sheriff L. O. Davis and Bert Roberts, Superintendent of the Castillo de San Marco, who has been in contact with the leader of the white integrationist group presently in St. Augustine, Florida.

There are approximately 20 white students and ministers presently living amongst the Negro population in St. Augustine, Florida, who have come to the city to assist in affecting integration.

On March 25, 1964, about five of this group picketed the Civic Center and passed out leaflets requesting visitors to "Bypass St. Augustine, America's oldest segregated city." The pamphlet accused St. Augustine of being a city of violence since: "Four integration leaders were recently beaten at a rally held by 500 members of the Ku Klux Klan;" "The home of integration leader was recently riddled with rifle bullets;" "The home of the first Negro children to attend white schools was burned to the ground;" "The Police Department recently obtained 15 police dogs to maintain order."

The pamphlet also protests that there was no bi-racial committee, no hospital integration, no integrated accommodations, only 6 Negroes in white schools and no civil service status for Negroes.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

On March 26, 1964, there was a noisy demonstration at the Murray High School for Negroes at St. Augustine, Florida, which consisted of a large number of students singing freedom songs and pounding their feet on the floor and racing through the hallways of the school.

The Sheriff's Office questioned two white students identified as [redacted] of Yale and [redacted] of Pennsylvania (Penn) State. It was learned by the Sheriff's Office that these white students had no part in the inciting of the demonstration. F-1-A

On March 27, 1964, the group will be in Tallahassee, Florida, participating in the march on Tallahassee. They expect to return to St. Augustine on March 28, 1964, and continue some form of demonstration at the Easter parade in St. Augustine on March 29, 1964.

There have been no incidents to date with regard to the visit by the white students and ministers.

b7c The foregoing information has been furnished to [redacted] 11th Intelligence Corps Group (INIC), Jacksonville, Florida.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

The information set out below was furnished by Deputy Sheriff Ray Trask:

On March 28, 1964 a group of twenty-six whites and Negroes were arrested and charged with Trespassing After Warning. Fifteen of this group were white demonstrators in St. Augustine under the auspices of the Student Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). The arrests resulted from sit-ins at segregated restaurants in St. Augustine, Florida when the participants refused to leave after being requested to do so by the proprietors.

On March 29, 1964 the annual Easter parade was held in St. Augustine without any serious incidents. Picketing at the Slave Market, Tourist Information Center and the St. Augustine City Gates was in progress during the parade.

One of the pickets, Winston Davidson, who identified himself as a chaplain at Yale University, was charged with Failure to Obey a Police Officer. x FEA - CON.N.

On March 29, 1964 nine other persons were arrested and charged with Trespassing After Warning and Resisting Arrest. Four of these individuals were white members of the SCLC and five were Negro females.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

On March 30, 1964, a mixed group of Negroes and whites were arrested at the Ponce De Leon Motor Lodge and charged with trespass after warning. This group was composed of three white persons and Negro Dr. Robert B. Hayling, a local integration leader, and Mrs. John Burgess, the wife of a Negro Episcopal Bishop in Massachusetts. Bond was set at $100 on each individual. All are presently confined at the St. Johns County Jail with the exception of Mrs. Burgess who bonded out on March 31, 1964. } F-10

On March 31, 1964, about 100 Negro high school students paraded through the streets of St. Augustine to the slave market where they met for a short time to sing songs. Up to this point there were no incidents. The group then walked to the Ponce De Leon Hotel in downtown St. Augustine where they entered the dining room and sat down. They were refused service, at which time they left and congregated at the rear entrance of the hotel. St. Augustine police and sheriff's deputies requested the crowd to disperse and when they refused, 117 were arrested. For the first time police dogs were used to keep the demonstrating group together until they could be placed under arrest. The dogs did not attack anyone and there were no incidents connected with the arrests. They were taken to the St. Johns County Jail and 79 juveniles of the group were released. The balance of the group is still being processed and those not juveniles will be charged with trespass after warning.

On March 31, 1964, at approximately 2:00 PM, Mary Elizabeth Deabody, mother of the governor of Massachusetts, entered the dining room of the Ponce De Leon Motor Lodge with a group comprised of 5 Negro woman, 2 white women, and 1 white man. The manager of the motor lodge requested that they leave, then called the police. Officers of the St. Augustine Police Department and sheriff's deputies then } F-12 advised each member of the group of the Florida law against trespass after warning, and requested them to leave. When they refused, all were placed under arrest. Mrs. Peabody requested to ride to the county jail with a colored deputy present and this request was granted. Mrs. Peabody was charged with the violation of trespass after warning (Florida statute 821.6) and with being an undesirable guest. Bond was set at $150 on each charge. Mrs. Peabody advised the sheriff that she did not want to post bond and remained in the county jail. Sheriff L. O. Davis advised he expected she would be arraigned on April 1, 1964, and that all persons would be arraigned as soon as possible.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

During the morning of April 1, 1964, a large group of Negro students refused to enter classes at Murray High School, West St. Augustine, Florida.

Appeals by the Principal and Superintendent of Schools to return to classes went unheeded and the group started to march toward downtown St. Augustine. They were halted by officers of the Florida Highway Patrol, St. Johns County Sheriff's Office and St. Augustine Police Department. They were again warned to return to school. Upon refusal they were taken to the County Jail. Two white students from Harvard University were also arrested.

A total number of 72 were arrested, eight of these are considered adults since they are over 17 and the balance are juveniles. The adults have been charged with unlawful assembly and contributing to the delinquency of minors. Bond was set at $100 on each charge. They will be arraigned April 2, 1964. No charge was placed against the juveniles and they will be released to their parents or handled by juvenile authorities as soon as they can be processed.

During the afternoon of April 1, 1964, two groups of demonstrators were arrested at the restaurant of the Ponce de Leon Motor Lodge. The first group was made up of four white males and four Negro females. The second group was made up of three white males and two Negro females. They were placed in the County Jail and charged with trespassing after warning.

RACIAL SITUATION
ST. JOHNS COUNTY, FLORIDA

A total of 88 persons were booked during the day at the County Jail, making a total in the jail of 205 demonstrators. 717

Mary Elizabeth Peabody, mother of the Governor of Massachusetts, was arraigned during the afternoon of April 1, 1964. County Judge Charles Mathis advised she was charged with trespassing after warning, conspiracy, and being an undesirable guest. Bond was set at $150 on each charge. Mrs. Peabody did not make bond and was returned to County Jail.

Attorneys for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference have petitioned the United States District Court at Jacksonville, Florida, to have all cases arising from demonstrations in St. Augustine transferred to that court on the basis that Civil Rights are being violated by the arrests under the Florida Trespass Law.

Judge Bryan Simpson will hear witnesses on April 2, 1964. One of these witnesses will be Mrs. Peabody.
